JANUARY-FEBRUARY 2019

To our dear faithful friends,

We hope this letter finds you doing well in 2019. We are so grateful for your faithful prayers and support.

The past couple of months for us have been extremely busy and this has also been the rainiest February we have ever experienced. In spite of the rain and mud, we are excited about what the Lord has been doing.

Along with the salvations, some of our folks are coming back around. A couple of young men that we have met who are in their mid twenties are asking some great questions about how to live for God. In their culture and that of the United States, the belief is as long you are not stealing or committing adultery you are fine. Now that they have the gift of the Holy Spirit after salvation, they know that there is more to the Christian life than just being saved. Please pray that God gives us wisdom as we show them out of the Bible how to live for Christ and glorify Him.

Another prayer request that I have is concerning a woman my wife and I met a few weeks ago. She is not saved and searching for the truth. She is reluctant knowing that she will have to make some drastic changes in her life once she gets saved. She also realizes that if she's truly going to accept the Lord it will be more than just some words in a quick prayer.

Another man I am meeting with is married with two children. His wife professes salvation and wants to make sure that her husband Michael is saved also. Once we get the church in Lafayette established (which is coming along nicely), they both have said that they will come. It's their desire to raise their children in church.

While out grocery shopping the other day, my wife ran into another family that we used to have in home bible studies with a few years back. They had quit because their priest told them to stay away from our studies. They expressed their desire for us to start coming by again. Needless to say, we are excited and need your prayers as we meet with them again.

If you would like to know the names of any that I have mentioned, please call me. I do not want to have their names posted on the internet. In the past it caused some of our folks (individuals and families) some heartaches. Once they are grounded well and we have our church established, then I can include more details.

We are thankful for so much and excited about answered prayers. God has answered our prayers about Katie's insulin pump! She has been on it now for the past two months and is adjusting slowly. It has been challenging but she is tackling it with diligence. Please continue to pray for her. Her A1c has greatly improved and she is getting more control over her blood sugars.

The rest of the family is well and as always we covet your prayers on our behalf. Thank you again for your encouragement, support and prayers. We are truly in awe of His goodness!

Your servant in Christ,

Aaron Hoot
